

Contents

Preface	vii
1 John Owen: Reformed Catholic, Renaissance Man	1
Introduction	1
His Life	2
Owen: Puritan or Reformed?	5
Owen as Renaissance Man	12
Owen and Theological Polemic	17
Conclusion	31
2 The Knowledge of the Trinitarian God	35
Introduction	35
Prolegomenal Issues	35
Divine Simplicity	38
The Attribute of Immensity	39
The Attribute of Vindictory Justice	42
God as Three and God as One: Defending the Trinity	47
The Deity of Christ	50
The Deity of the Spirit	53
God and the World of Creation	57
A Concluding Postscript	66
3 Divine Covenants and Catholic Christology	67
Introduction	67
Before the Fall: Natural Theology	67
The Covenant of Works	71
The Post-Fall Situation	76
The Christological Response	77
The Covenant of Grace	78
The Traditionary Doctrinal Matrix of the Covenant of Redemption	80
The Use of the Term Covenant for Intratrinitarian Relations	83
Owen's Development of the Concept	86
The Covenant of Redemption and the Priesthood of Christ	87
Incarnation, Mediation and the Christological Role of the Spirit	92
Conclusion	98
4 The Article by Which the Church Stands or Falls	101
Introduction	101
Developments in Protestant Notions of Justification Prior to Owen	102
Owen on Imputation of Active and Passive Righteousness	107

Owen and Eternal Justification	113
Faith and Works	118
Conclusion	121
Conclusion	123
Index	129